

Unmuted

A story too good to keep quiet

OWNER'S MANUAL

Unmuted Overview

What if your story could help someone else find Jesus? In Unmuted, we'll follow six everyday people in Acts who helped advance the gospel. They didn't have it all together, but they said yes to God. As we explore their stories, you'll be challenged to step past fear and hesitation and begin living a faith that's meant to be shared.

- Purpose 1: To write down our testimonies to be prepared to share our faith with others.
- Purpose 2: To move from passive belief to active participation in sharing the gospel in everyday life.
- Purpose 3: To cultivate a culture where we leverage our resources to invest in the Great Commission.

Lifestyle

Lifestyle is a spiritual discipline that focuses on living every part of life in a way that reflects the character of Jesus. Through the Holy Spirit's guidance and help, we learn to love others well, serve with humility, speak with grace, pursue integrity, and respond with compassion in everyday moments. As we surrender our attitudes, habits, words, and actions to God, He gradually transforms us into people who represent His kingdom in the world.

- Notice and engage with people throughout the day.
- Be generous with your time and resources.
- Speak truthfully and graciously.
- Include or care for someone overlooked.
- Forgive quickly and pursue reconciliation.
- Look for opportunities to share your faith naturally.
- Ask for the Spirit's gifts as you interact with people.

Examen

This spiritual practice is attributed to Ignatius of Loyola (October 23, 1491–July 31, 1556). The purpose is to invite the Holy Spirit to help you become more self-aware as you seek the kingdom of God and His righteousness. Take a few minutes for each of the following points of reflection and prayer.

1. Place yourself in God's presence. Give thanks to God the Father for His great love for you, expressed by sending Jesus, God the Son. Take deep, slow breaths, inviting God the Holy Spirit to fill you as you put your faith in Jesus.
2. Pray for the grace to understand how God is working in your life. Soften your heart and invite Him to show you how He desires to empower, correct and mature you as you seek Him.
3. Reflect on your day with the following questions: What interactions did you have? What moments did you have by yourself? What feelings did you experience?
4. Examine what you did, said, or thought in those instances. What opportunities to reflect God's goodness did you take? How did you miss the mark?
5. Think through the day ahead. What interactions are you planning to have? What moments will you have by yourself? Resolve to be with God and reflect His goodness in each situation. Once again, take deep breaths as you invite the Holy Spirit to fill you. Thank Him for the blessing you received today. Receive His forgiveness for missing the mark. And ask Him to give you the virtue and wisdom you need for the coming day.

Testimony Guide

The Power of Your Story

Your testimony is more powerful than you think. You don't need to have all the answers, a dramatic story, or perfect words to make an impact. God has already been at work in your life, and your story may be the very thing that helps someone else take one step closer to Jesus. In the book of Acts, God continually advances His kingdom through ordinary people who simply share what they've seen and experienced. Your testimony is not about impressing people; it's about pointing people to the faithfulness of God. When you write down your story and share it through conversation or video, you create opportunities for others to see that Jesus still transforms lives today. Someone in your world is waiting to hear a story that sounds like yours. Don't keep quiet about what God has done.

Testimony Form

Throughout this series, take time to complete the Testimony Form on the following pages. The form has four parts:

1. The Before
2. The Encounter
3. The After
4. The Impact

Once you've answered the questions in each of the four parts, use your answers to write out your testimony in long form. Once completed, write a summary version you can share with others in one minute or less.

Testimony Guide

The Before

What did "life on your own terms" look like? (What were the main struggles, anxieties, or habits that defined that season?)

What was the "turning point" or the moment you realized that your way of doing life wasn't working anymore?

How would you describe your view of God during that time?

Testimony Guide

The Encounter

How did God get your attention? Was it through a specific person, a verse, a trial, or a moment at Flatland?

What was the specific truth or realization about Jesus that finally "clicked" for you?

In that moment of surrender, what did it feel like to turn from the old way toward Him?

Testimony Guide

The After

How is your life different now that God is at the center?

What is a specific "old way" that God has helped you lay down, and what has He replaced it with (e.g., He replaced my anger with peace; He replaced our debt with stewardship)?

"Moving to the center" is a journey. How are you continuing to grow in your relationship with God today?

Testimony Guide

The Impact

If you could speak directly to someone who is struggling with exactly what you went through, what would you tell them about God's character?

How do you hope your story impacts others?

What individual(s) or group(s) of people would you like your story to impact?

Testimony Guide

My Story

Use your answers on the previous page to tell your story of salvation and transformation.

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page, typical of notebook paper. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the page.

Testimony Guide

My Prompts

Most gospel conversations don't begin with a sermon; they begin with a question. A "prompt" is a question people already ask you that naturally opens the door to your story. It might be, "Where are you from?" "What do you do?" "How did you get through that season?" "Why do you have so much peace?" "What's behind your tattoo?" or "What brought you to Omaha?" Instead of giving only surface-level answers, begin asking yourself: How could this question become a bridge to what God has done in my life? For example, "What brought you to Omaha?" could become, "Honestly, God used a major transition in my life to bring me here, and that season changed my relationship with Him." A prompt doesn't force a spiritual conversation; it simply opens the door naturally. Pay attention to the questions people repeatedly ask you because they may reveal the exact opportunities God has already placed in your everyday life to share your testimony.

What are your prompts? Write them down below, along with how you will use them, to share your testimony.
